

Color Expression

Class Description

Inject a little color into your week in this class on Color Expression!

This class is a mixture of learning, discussion, journaling, and collage. We will take a look at color theory and we will evaluate how color is used in art, advertising, interior design, and more. We will also explore our own associations with color and we will get our creativity flowing with some art exercises.

Supplies:

- Glue or tape
- Collage material: magazines, holiday cards, etc.
- Pen and paper or journal
- Something to color with (crayons, markers, hi-liters)
- Your phone camera

About Megan:

Megan Watters is a contemporary mixed-media artist. She has worked on window displays, charged Broadway and off-Broadway shows, and painted on several film sets. She has gone on to manage large-scale fabrication projects, including award-winning Macy's Holiday Windows.

Her artwork includes painting, collage, and assemblages. She has shown work in various shows throughout NYC and Atlanta. She has a passion for teaching and community building. She firmly believes art is connection.
